

Professor Chris Paris

Professor Chris Paris, BA (Soton), MPhil (Glasgow), PhD (ANU), FAcSS, FRSA; Research Fellow, Centre for Housing, Urban and Regional Planning (CHURP), University of Adelaide (until 17 October 2014)

Chris Paris is a Research Fellow in the Centre for Housing, Urban and Regional Planning, University of Adelaide (until October 2014) and Emeritus Professor of Housing Studies, University of Ulster. Chris has wide international experience of research, teaching and examination in housing, planning and urban development. He also has extensive international experience of applied policy research for government, statutory agencies and private sector organisations. He is author of 30 books, monographs and research reports and over 100 journal publications. His most recent book, Affluence Mobility and Second Home Ownership, has been widely praised in reviews in scholarly and professional journals. His latest research on second homes, Second homes and changing populations: impacts and implications for local government in South Australia, (with Thredgold, 2014) is available at <http://www.lga.sa.gov.au/page.aspx?u=522&t=uList&ulistId=0&c=37472>